

IEA WIND TCP

Report launch event

Impacts of Wind Turbine Technology on the System Value of Wind

Date: 22. November 2017

Venue: Room S01 (Ground floor). Technical University of Denmark (DTU). Anker Engelunds Vej 1 Bygning 101A, 2800 Kgs. Lyngby

Introduction

- 08.30-09.10 Registration and coffee
- 09.10-09.20 Welcome and introduction to DTU
Klaus Skytte, DTU Systems Analysis
- 09.20-09.30 IEA WIND TCP Task 26 Overview
Maureen Hand, National Renewable Energy Laboratory

The market value of wind - from cost to value

- 09.30-10.10 Impacts of Wind Turbine Technology on the System Value of Wind
Presentation and launch of the new IEA Wind TCP Task 26 report
Alberto Dalla Riva and János Hethey, Ea Energy Analyses
- 10.10-10.30 Additional Perspectives on the Market Value of Wind
Karsten Capion, Danish Energy Association
- 10.30-10.45 System optimal wind locations
Frank Obermüller, DNV GL
- 10.45-11.00 Coffee break
- 11.00-11.20 Industry view on the development of turbine technology and the market value
Thomas Korzeniewski, Vestas
- 11.20-11.40 The Developer Perspective - considerations when planning wind farms
European Energy
- 11.40-12.00 Value of Wind – other measures to avoid the value drop
Ryan Wisser, Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory
- 12.00-12.30 Round Table: Q&A and discussion
Moderator: Maureen Hand, National Renewable Energy Laboratory
- 12.30-13.30 Lunch and Networking

Technology status, projection & future challenges

- 13.30-13.50 Onshore Wind Technology Status and Trends, with focus on Germany
Silke Lüers, Deutsche WindGuard
- 13.50-14.10 Expert Elicitation of Future Wind Energy Costs
Ryan Wisser, Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory
- 14.10-14.30 Coffee break
- 14.30-14.50 The cost of visual impact
Pablo Hevia Koch, DTU
- 14.50-15.10 Design of auctions for wind power
Lena Kitzing, DTU
- 15.10-15.30 Q&A on afternoon activities
Moderator: Maureen Hand, National Renewable Energy Laboratory
- 15.30-16.00 Networking and Refreshments